Turks Move into Byzantium

(pages 507-510)

How did the Ottoman Empire begin?

In 1301, the world of the eastern Mediterranean was also changing. The Byzantine Empire was falling. The Seljuk Turk state had been destroyed. Anatolia, the area of modern Turkey, was now inhabited by groups of nomadic Turks. They saw themselves as ghazis, or Muslim warriors for Islam. They called the lands where non-Muslims lived.

The most successful ghazi was Osman. Western Europeans thought his name was Ottoman. They called his followers Ottomans. Between 1100 and 1226, Osman built a strong but small kingdom in Anatolia. Leaders who came after Osman called themselves sultans, or "rulers with power." They extended the kingdom by buying land. They also formed alliances with other chieftains and conquered everyone they could.
