Summary of the book

- Percy woke up with a fright as he had been dreaming of something horrible. His mother came up and excitedly announced to him that it was his first year at school without being kicked out or expelled. Why was she so happy about this? Because every year Percy gets tracked down by monsters that try to kill him. This might not sound normal to you but it is to Percy. He is a demigod and monsters want to kill the demigods for they are the children of the gods. Percy lugged his back pack to school and met his friend, Tyson, who he would later find out is a Cyclops. He went into the gym to play dodge ball when five kids grew ten feet tall and started throwing flaming balls whizzing two hundred miles per hour. Percy slaughtered them easily with the help of Tyson and saw Annabeth, his friend from camp. They escape to camp half blood with Tyson and they hear that the head director of camp half blood, Chiron, has been kicked out of camp because the gods are blaming him for poisoning the tree that protects the camp boundaries. Clarisse is sent out on a quest to receive the golden fleece which can heal the tree. Percy and Annabeth search out without permission to go. Percy is having dreams of Grover asking him to save him and telling him that the golden fleece is on the island he is being held hostage on and its past the sea of monsters. They search out to find Grover and bump into Clarisse on the way. She accepts and they run into the Bermuda Triangle which is the sea of monsters. Clarisse explains there are two ways to go through. One option is sail past the monster that picks people off the ship or go across a whirlpool of fast moving water. They choose the whirlpool but as they get closer, the monster that picks up people of the ship attacks them. Could this be the end of Percy? Read Percy Jackson and the Sea of Monsters to find out.
